

Lab 4-Explain the first assembly language program in Book (Doc)

Due No Due Date Points 10 Submitting a file upload

Submit your explanation of the first assembly language program in the book here in one of two ways.

1. One team member should submit the document for the whole team. This document should list all team members. There should be only one submission of this document per team. Whoever submits this document should list his/her name first.

2. The other team members should submit only a list of the team members, including themselves. List your own name first.

This means that everyone should submit something.
